

CD Box RS2 T

„A CD drive of the finest kind made from master touch.“

Pro-Ject is always good for a surprise. Who would have expected that the Austrians, in a generally pessimistic mood around the CD, recently surpassing the last disc Eldoradon Germany in terms of value of music streaming, would present a CD drive in the high-end class?

On the other hand, millions of silver discs are in the nations living rooms and new ones are still coming. They want to be heard.

Pro-Ject surprises with an elaborately processed and first-class sounding CD drive in a compact "box" design that suits every top converter and even offers a proprietary output for the "pre-boxes" of the Austrians. Either way, a great recommendation to optimally enjoy ones silver treasures.

The noble metal remote control for the new high-end drive is extremely flat. A key to open the button cell is in the accessory pack.

From below you can see the light, stiff carbon frame on which the solid framed drive is swinging.

Upwards a carbon plate forms the conclusion. A small puck with a Pro-Ject logo fixes the disc by magnetic force.
